

TRAVEL ON THE "CENTURY"

Travel To the 2012 RPCA Convention in style!

Star Trak is accepting reservations for travel aboard the Hickory Creek between New York, Chicago and Indianapolis for the RPCA Convention being held between January 19-23.

So step aboard...

Gaze through the oversized windows of the world famous "lookout lounge" as you skirt the Hudson River banks. The Pullman in which you have chosen to relax is the perfect punctuation mark to this speeding crack express train. After a brief service stop at Rensselaer, you're on the move again, sprinting up West Albany hill while enjoying a gourmet meal prepared to perfection for you. After dinner, indulge in your favorite cocktail as you settle down to be rocked to bed on the Water Level Route.

The next morning you have arrived in the Windy City and have the day to visit your favorite sites, but be sure that you have set your watch to Central time as the Cardinal will be leaving on time tonight.

Arrive in Indianapolis station, but don't fret the late hour because the Pullman berth that you have retired is your home away from home for the duration of the convention.

When the convention concludes, you will continue your travels on the rear of the Cardinal. With inspired views of the New River Gorge, have your cameras ready to capture the memories that will make others jealous of this great journey on which you have been.
